Introducing Keda Logistics Ltd. 100% Tahltan owned, asset-based transportation company.

Keda was formed after 20 years of trucking in Tahltan territory.

Both general freight and propane. The freight service is such an essential service, the Tahltan communities and industry alike are very reliant on good regular transportation service. Through good long-term partnerships Keda Logistics Ltd. has been able to form, and now provide world-wide logistics service.

To provide international freight forwarding we work with Roliprojects, www.roliprojects.com local expertise for domestic local transportation. We utilize the professional freight service of Cforce Transport. B.C. based 32-year-old trucking company. Offices and staff, in Smithers, Prince Rupert, Prince George, Vancouver, Parksville.

Together by land, sea or air we can move anything from anywhere to anywhere.

DRIVING GROWTH AND OPPORTUNITY IN NORTHERN BC

At Resource Connector North (RCN), we believe in the power of connection. Our mission is simple yet transformative: to unite businesses, communities, and innovators to unlock the full potential of Northern BC's resource sector.

HALLMARKS OF RCN IN 2025

This year, we're proud to champion projects and people that shape our region's future:

Supporting Vitreo Mineral's Angus Project – a major development 100 kilometres north of Prince George, driving economic growth and opportunity.

Investing in People – because the resource sector thrives on skilled talent. Through bursaries, we support education and training at:

- Northern Lights College
- Coast Mountain College
- College of New Caledonia (Trades programs)
- University of Northern B.C. (School of Engineering)
- Thompson Rivers University (Williams Lake)

LEADERSHIP AND COLLABORATION

We welcome two newly elected directors to our board: Trevor McPherson and Robert Bernat, bringing fresh perspectives and energy to our vision.

We're also excited to partner again with DEL Communications to produce the 2026 RCN Membership Directory and Magazine, showcasing the strength and diversity of our network. Explore current and past issues at resourceconnector.ca/resources/magazine.

CONNECTING MORE THAN EVER

RCN is expanding its reach through social media and digital platforms:

- LinkedIn: Resource Connector North
- Facebook: ResourceConnector
- Twitter: @ResourceNorth

New companies and supporters can register online, and current members can easily update their business information.

OUR COMMITMENT

Northern B.C. is rich in resources — and even richer in potential. At RCN, we're committed to turning that potential into prosperity by fostering collaboration, supporting education, and creating opportunities for businesses to thrive.

Together, we build the future. Together, we connect.

On behalf of the Board,

Nolan Nicholson

President, Resource Connector North

Message from the Honourable David Eby Premier of British Columbia

Building a stronger, more independent B.C. through partnership and purpose

It's no question that 2025 was a year of fundamental change in British Columbia, across Canada, and around the world.

In B.C., we started off the year responding to destructive and unjustified tariffs brought on by Donald Trump, and as we enter 2026, we remain under that threat.

The continued trade war is impacting all of B.C.'s major sectors. The cost of everyday goods is rising, supply chains are disrupted, and the global economy is slowing down.

The fact is, there are many aspects of the global economy that are outside of our control. But what we can control is how we respond.

In this environment of rapid and fundamental change, B.C. has everything we need to thrive. We have the abundant energy and natural resources, including softwood lumber, natural gas, and critical minerals. We have bountiful clean electricity. We have strong and productive partnerships with First Nations throughout the province.

But accessing our abundant natural resources hasn't always been easy. For too long, outdated rules made it too costly for major projects to reach final investment decisions. Permitting was slow. Companies couldn't access the skilled labour they needed to grow. There's no excuse for holding back billions in economic growth due to policy problems that we know we can fix.

Through our Look West strategy, we're focusing on delivering more projects faster, strengthening our workforce, and diversifying and growing targeted sectors.

We're accelerating permitting and expediting new and expanded critical minerals projects, particularly in northwestern B.C. We are creating partnerships with First Nations through the Northwest Critical Mineral and Conservation Corridor initiative. This approach reduces costs, lowers emissions, and speeds up the time it takes to get shovels in the ground — all while ensuring benefits are shared more fairly.

Across B.C., there are $50 billion worth of new opportunities in critical minerals and metals. In the Northwest alone, $29 billion in projects are ready to move forward. The Osisko Cariboo Gold Project was approved in 2024, Highland Valley Copper is undergoing a major expansion, and Artemis's Blackwater Mine has come online. Few jurisdictions anywhere can point to this level of new activity and expansion in such a short time.

We're also moving faster on the North Coast Transmission Line. Once it's operational Quality Controlled.

Experienced.

WWW.CIFCON.COM

and industrial projects connect to it, the economic benefits are estimated to contribute approximately $9.85 billion per year to the economy and create and sustain approximately 9,700 direct jobs annually. Through regulation, we also intend to make it easier for companies to access sustainable, clean power at fair rates without billions in upfront costs.

Here in B.C., partnerships with First Nations goes together with economic growth. That's how we move forward together — as we did with the Haida land title agreement, the Red Chris Mine expansion with the Tahltan Nation, Cedar LNG with the Haisla Nation, and 10 new wind and solar projects led by First Nations. Each of these major projects is being built through partnerships, not courtroom confrontations.

And powering all this opportunity is our most important resource of all: a province full of skilled, diverse, and hardworking people. They are the driving force behind the economic engine we're building.

Investing in our future workforce is one of the most important things we can do right now. Over the next decade, B.C. can expect more than 95,000 job openings in the skilled trades.

To meet this need, we're expanding skilled trades training and accelerating workforce development across key sectors. We're doubling the investment in trades training to $214 million annually by 2028/29 and investing up to $40 million in highly qualified professionals training over the next three years. We have nearly 50,000 apprentices throughout B.C. and are ensuring this expansion happens in every region of the province so that more apprentices can earn certification. We're building opportunity for young people to stay and succeed in B.C.

When we add all these things together — regulations that make sense, partnerships with First Nations, and investments in our future workforce — everybody wins. Good jobs, long-term prosperity for communities, and a cleaner, more secure energy future for our province.

As we look ahead to 2026, we will continue this incredible momentum.

We will move forward on major, nation-building projects like the North Coast Transmission Line, LNG Canada Phase 2, and the Red Chris Mine expansion. We will create more certainty and prosperity through strong partnerships with First Nations. And we will make sure people in B.C. have the skills and education they need to support key economic sectors such as natural resources, creating shared benefits for all.

British Columbians have always stepped up when it mattered most. Now, it's our time to build again — and we don't have a moment to waste. Building is how we protect our future. It's how we create opportunity. It's how we ensure our kids and grandkids have good jobs and strong communities right here at home.

This is about ensuring the next chapter of B.C.'s story is written by us. By workers, First Nations, and communities who believe in what's possible when we work together.

Because when we build in B.C. — we build for everyone. Our future will be cleaner, stronger, and shared by all.

The image is a promotional graphic for Allnorth. It features a background photograph of a construction worker in a hard hat and safety vest standing next to a silver pickup truck in a wooded area at sunset. The Allnorth logo, a stylized 'A' inside a circle, is in the top right. Below the logo is the tagline 'Big enough to know how, small enough to know you'. A list of services is provided in a semi-transparent box on the right. At the bottom, industry sectors are listed, and the website 'allnorth.com' is displayed in red.

Introducing Keda Logistics Ltd. 100% Tahltan owned, asset-based transportation company.

Keda was formed after 20 years of trucking in Tahltan territory.

Both general freight and propane. The freight service is such an essential service, the Tahltan communities and industry alike are very reliant on good regular transportation service. Through good long-term partnerships Keda Logistics Ltd. has been able to form, and now provide world-wide logistics service.

To provide international freight forwarding we work with Roliprojects, www.roliprojects.com local expertise for domestic local transportation. We utilize the professional freight service of Cforce Transport. B.C. based 32-year-old trucking company. Offices and staff, in Smithers, Prince Rupert, Prince George, Vancouver, Parksville.

Together by land, sea or air we can move anything from anywhere to anywhere.

ANGUS PROJECT

- The proposed project would mine quartz arenite rocks in a pit/quarry then crush and transport those rocks to a raw sand plant
- Simple processing will liberate high-purity silica sand grains naturally occurring in frac sand (proppant) sizes
- Proppants are used in the development of shale gas resources such as BC's Montney Basin
- Located approximately 60 km north of Prince George, BC and 10 km east of Bear Lake, BC and 250 km south of Chetwynd, BC
